5 MINUTE WALK

Walk for 5 minutes to get your muscles warm and loose for strength training. You can walk outside if the weather permits, inside around the house, or on a treadmill if you have one. Another option is to walk the length of the floor you live on to use the elevator farthest from your apartment every day.

Warming up is important for preventing injury. It also helps you get the most benefit from the exercise because flexible, warm muscles respond better to the challenge of lifting weights. You can also use a bike, rowing machine, stair stepper or other piece of aerobic equipment to warm up.

SQUATS

- Stand directly in front of a sturdy chair. Your feet should be slightly more than shoulder-width apart. Extend your arms so that they are parallel to the ground. Place your weight more on your heels than on the balls of your feet.
- Bend your knees as you lower your buttocks towards the chair in a slow, controlled motion, while you count to 4.
- Pause. Then, slowly rise back up to a standing position as you count to keep your knees over your ankles and your back straight.
- Repeat the squat ten times. This equals 1 set. Rest for about 1 minute. Then complete a second set of 10 squats.

WALL PUSH-UPS

- Find a wall that is clear of any objects such as wall hangings and windows. Stand a little farther than arm's length from the wall. Face the wall, lean your body forward and place your palms flat against the wall at about shoulder-height and shoulder-width apart.
- Bend your elbows as you lower your upper body toward the wall in a slow, controlled motion as you count to 4. Keep your feet planted.
- Pause. Then, slowly push yourself back until your arms are straight as you count to 4. Make sure you don't lock your elbows.
- Repeat the wall push-up 10 times for 1 set. Rest for about 1 minute. Then do a second set of 10 wall push-ups.

FINGER MARCHING

Stand or sit forward in a chair with your feet on the floor. Your feet should be shoulder-width apart.

Movement 1: Imagine there is a wall directly in front of you. Slowly walk your fingers up the wall until your arms are above your head. Hold your arms overhead while wiggling your fingers for about 10 seconds. Then slowly walk them back down.

Movement 2: Next, try to touch your hands behind your back. If you can, reach for the opposite elbow with each hand—or get as close as you can. Hold the position for about 10 seconds, feeling a stretch in your back, arms, and chest. Release your arms.

Movement 3: Interlace your fingers in front of your body. Raise your arms so that they're parallel to the ground. Rotate your hands so your palms face an imaginary wall. Stand up straight, but curl your shoulders forward. You should feel the stretch in your wrists and upper back. Hold the position for about 10 seconds. Repeat the exercise 3 times.

STEP-UPS

- Stand next to a handrail at the bottom of a staircase. With your feet flat and toes facing forward, put your entire left foot on the first step.
- Hold the handrail for balance. As you count to 2, place your weight on your left leg and straighten it as you slowly lift your right leg until it reaches the first step. Make sure that your left knee stays straight and does not move forward past your ankle as you're lifting yourself up. Let your right foot tap the first step near your left foot.
- Pause. Then, use your left leg to support your weight and slowly lower your right foot back to the floor as you count to 4.
- Repeat 10 times with the left leg and 10 times with the right leg for 1 set. Rest for about 1 minute. Then do a second set of 10 repetitions with each leg.
